THE LANCONIAN

OF 1963

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
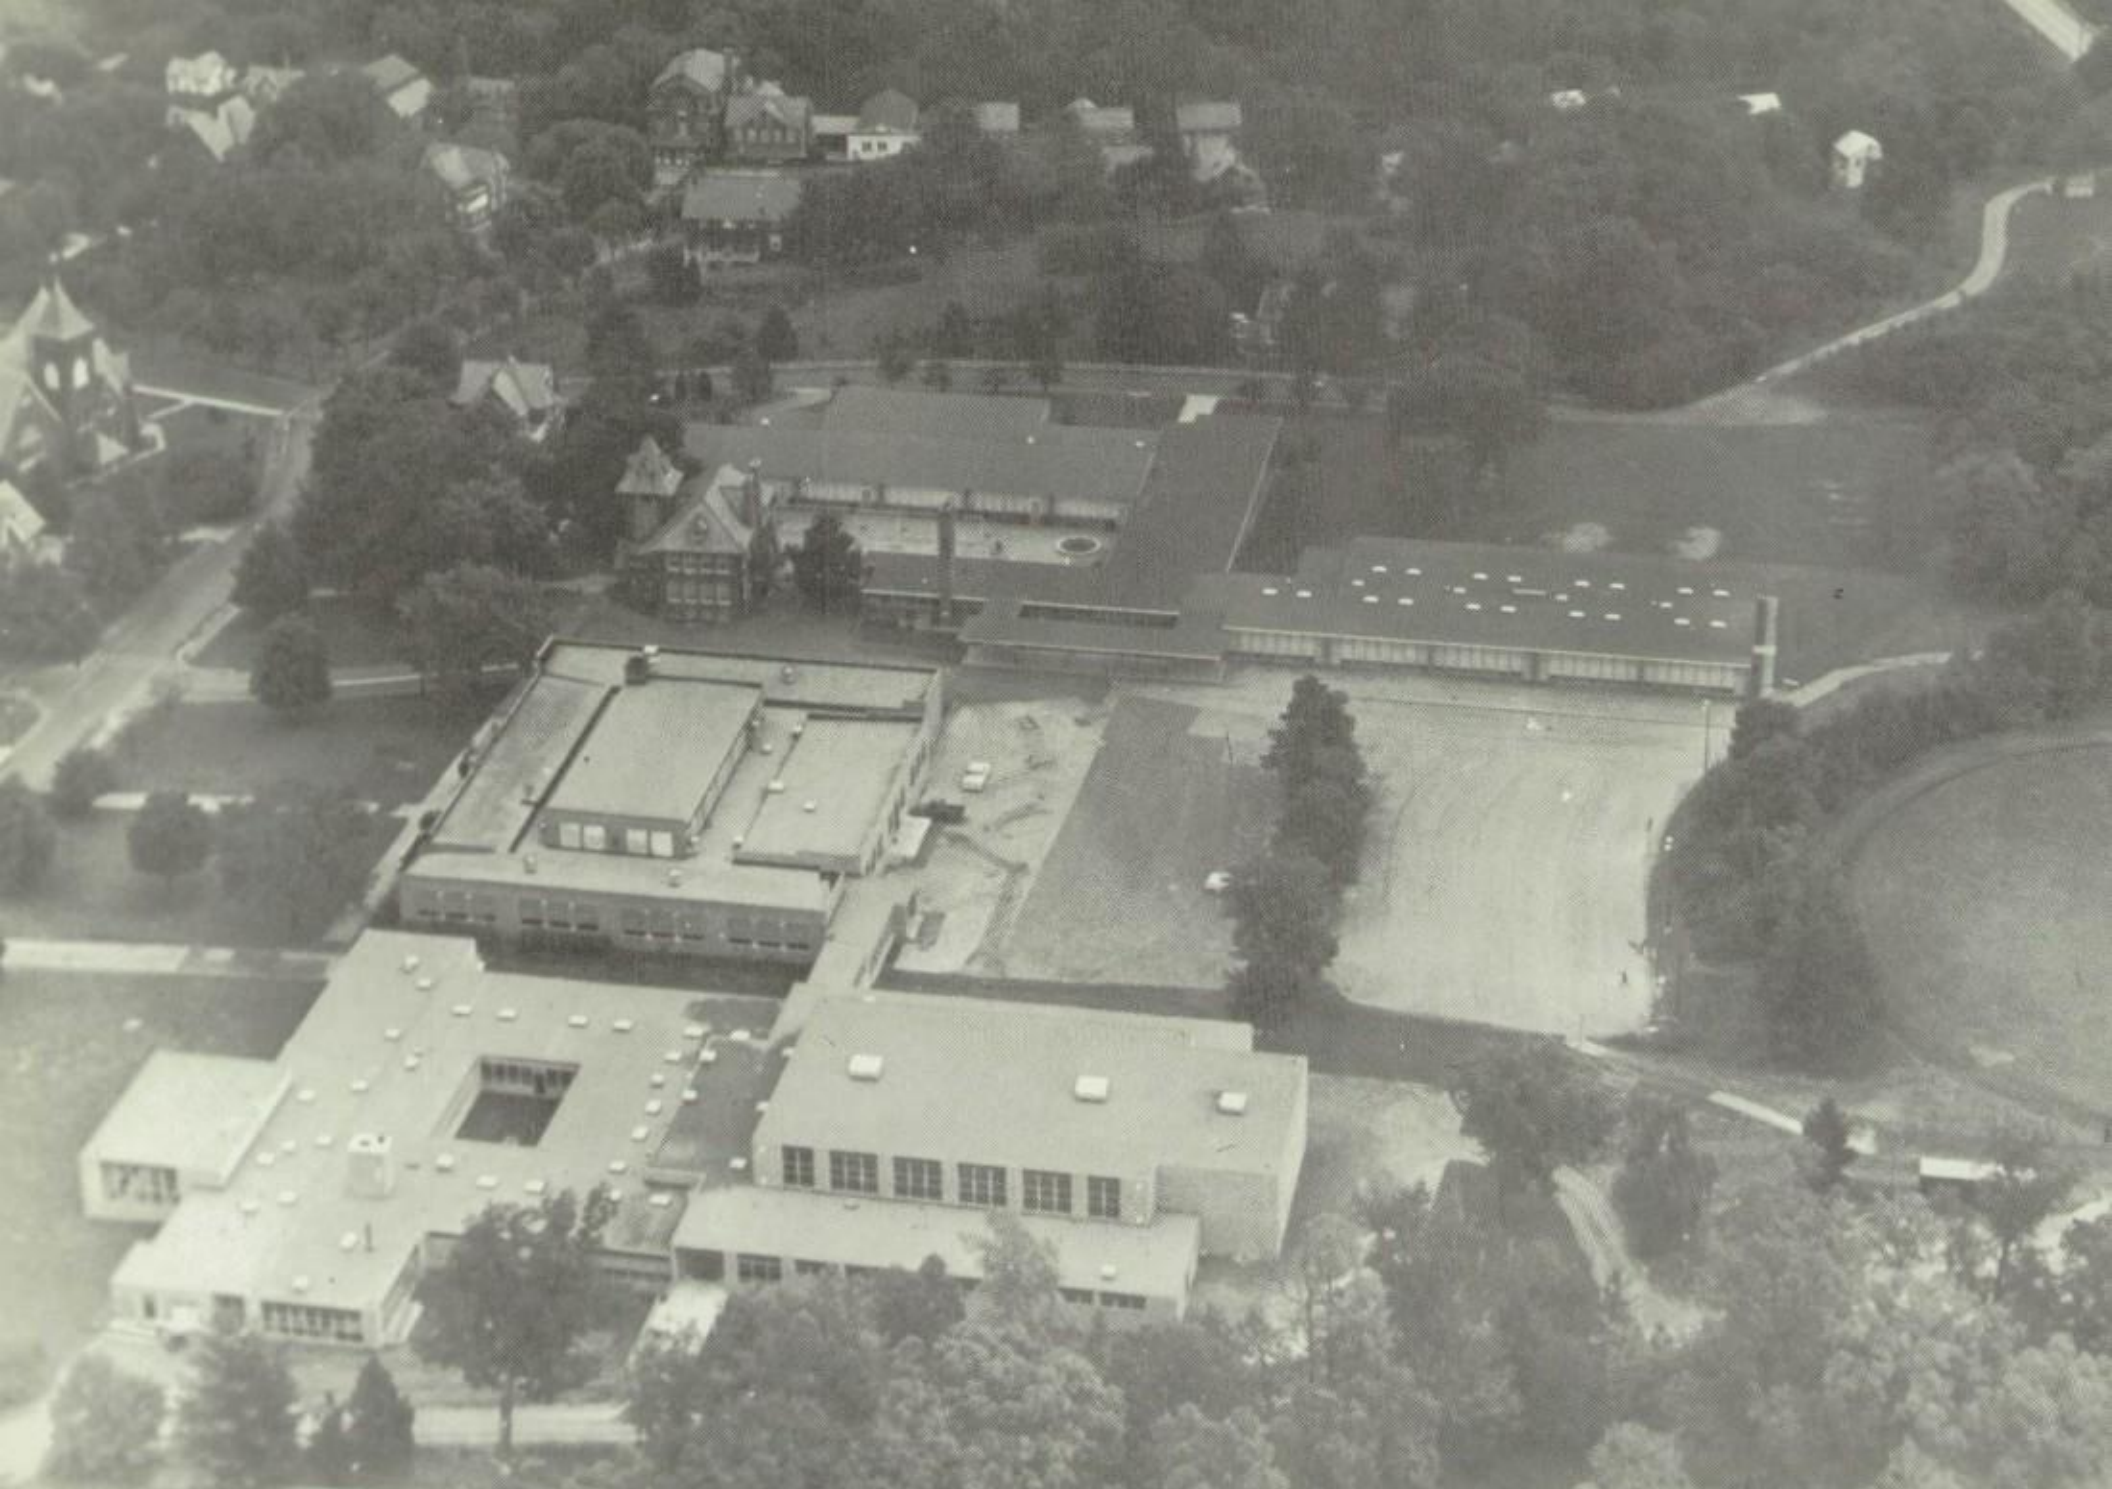
SCHWENKSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL
SCHWENKSVILLE, PENNSYLVANIA



Foreword

. . . rivers that water the woodlands,

Darkened by shadows of earth, but reflecting an image of heaven.

Thus the Perkiomen flows through our valley. We have swum in her waters in the summer, and winters we have skated on her frozen surface. We have watched as the fall rains transformed our peaceful creek into a raging torrent, and we have felt the lazy spring sun beckon us to fish from her shady banks.

We remember the Perkiomen through the changing seasons, even as we remember Schwenksville High School through the years. Our memories are happy ones. We hope that those who follow us will find the happiness that we have had.

Dedication

For your sincere interest in each student,
For your ever-present smile and friendly word,
For your often unappreciated kindness.
For your unfailing loyalty,
For your help and understanding,
For your devoted service to our school,
We, the Class of 1963, dedicate our LANCONIAN to you,
MRS. KATHRYN L. WISMER

As the banks of the stream guide it
And give it power,
So have they guided us . . .

ADMINISTRATION

To the Class of 1963:

In your twelve years of schooling, you have gained much knowledge and acquired many skills. I hope you have also learned to be dissatisfied — dissatisfied with yourself and dissatisfied with the state of our World. This kind of discontent will lead you to strive constantly to improve yourself and to make the World a better place in which to live. In this case, we shall be proud of you even if you do forget some of the history, geometry or bookkeeping which we have tried to teach you.

Every good wish for happiness and success.

To the Class of 1963:

To each of us, there comes a time for soul searching and self-examination. Graduation marks a change in the normal routine of your twelve years and it is a time of decision. This is a good time for you to conduct a critical self-examination. Know your abilities, strengths, weaknesses, personality traits, likes and dislikes. A true understanding of yourself will help you make intelligent decisions regarding your future plans.

As Socrates so wisely said, "Know thyself."

My best wishes to you for a happy and rewarding future.

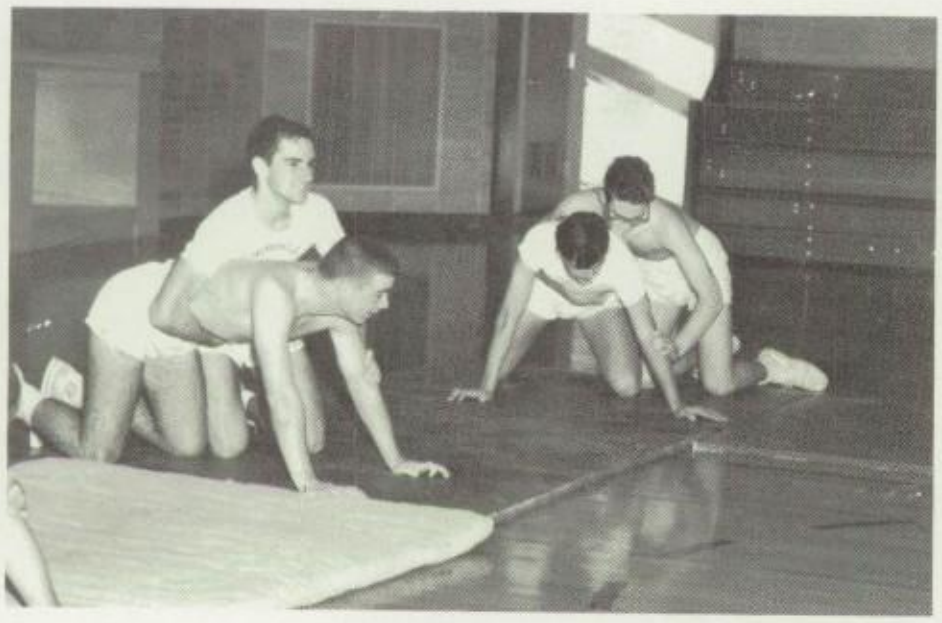
Educational Program

HISTORY — From the ancient divination rites of the city-state Shang to the excitement of the Space Age, the pageant of history unfolds before our students. With the help of the history department, students learn about the past and are taught to relate the lessons of the past to the future.



PHYSICAL EDUCATION — Flabby Americans? Not these boys! In a well-balanced physical education program students are exposed to many sports and develop numerous physical skills. There is also ample opportunity for participation in inter-scholastic and intramural sports.

TYPING — Whether a student is college-bound or plans to enter the business world, typing is a very valuable skill. Students learn the importance of proper form while they work for speed and accuracy.

LIBRARY — The M. Alice Grebe Library, with its ever-growing supply of books and magazines, meets students' needs for reference materials and pleasure reading. The library's modern facilities create a pleasant study atmosphere.

SCIENCE — It is one of the basic principles of science that a substance moves from an area of greater concentration to an area of lesser concentration. At S.H.S. a great concentration of scientific information flows into the sometimes unresponsive brains of the students. General Science, Biology, Physics, and Chemistry all contribute to their store of knowledge about their world.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS — Shop students learn to make things that are beautiful and useful. They work in wood and plastics as well as several other mediums. Mechanical drawing gives the students a chance to design their own products.

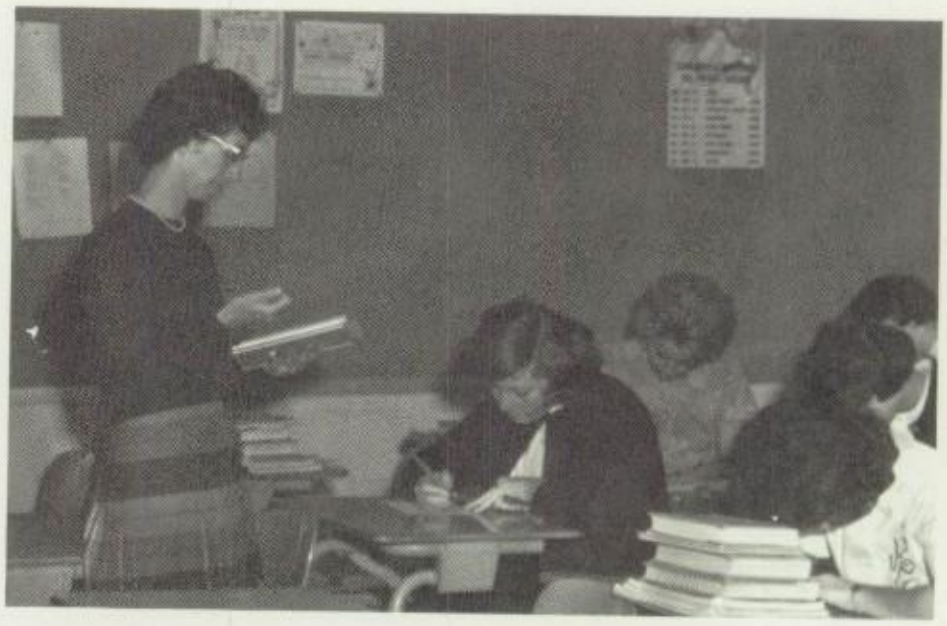
ENGLISH — To live in the modern world, a person must be able to express himself. In our English classes we experiment with self-expression in original compositions, learn the mechanics of our language through drills in grammar, and study the ideas that shaped our culture by reading the works of great authors.

MUSIC — From melodious Mozart to tempestuous Beethoven, students of music learn to appreciate the works of the masters. They also study the mechanics of music — notes, counting, scales — and they take part in group singing.

HEALTH — Health students learn about themselves. They study the operation and structure of the human body. After a detailed study of first aid, students are well prepared to cope with any emergency that may arise. Hygiene and emotional adjustment are also included in the curriculum.

LANGUAGE — Language is the path between the minds of men. It is the road that ideas travel. To be fully aware of his world, a student should know at least one foreign language. While studying Latin, students are brought into direct contact with the ideas that helped form our civilization. German provides students with the ability to communicate with the people of another nation.

SHORTHAND — Shorthand is a must for every efficient secretary. Students improve their proficiency in this subject through dictation and transcription.



MATHEMATICS — Numbers can be fascinating, tricky, or just plain ornery. Whatever the case, students at S.H.S. become well instructed in their intricacies. From the study of simple arithmetic, students progress to more complicated subjects — Business Math, Algebra, and Trigonometry.

DRIVER TRAINING — To help students become safe drivers, Schwenksville High School gives instruction in the fundamentals of good driving. All Sophomores are required to take classroom work in the subject. Road work is available to all students who are sixteen.

GUIDANCE — Whether college-bound or headed for the business world, students find the guidance department ready to help them achieve their goals. Through testing programs and regular conferences, students achieve a clearer understanding of their aptitudes and abilities.

SOCIAL STUDIES — Social Studies gives the Junior High student his first detailed picture of life around the world. With the aid of maps and textbooks, he meets and learns to understand people. In eighth grade the study becomes more specialized, with attention focused on American History. The ninth-grade student learns about the structure and workings of his government, in Civics class.

HOME ECONOMICS — Every young girl should know the fundamentals of homemaking. The Home Economics course is designed to instruct girls in basic subjects, such as sewing, cooking, and good grooming. It also familiarizes them with finer points of homemaking.

And the stream and the ocean have met, and are one!

"Of Time and the River"

Far up in the highlands, a clear mountain stream tumbles merrily over its rocky bed. Someday, many months and many miles later, it will flow into the vast expanse of the restless sea. In the course of its journey the gushing stream will undergo many changes. Tributaries will broaden and strengthen it. Varying terrain will shape its bed and alter its course. When its waters finally mingle with the salty ocean tides, the little stream will be a great river, flowing steadily toward its destination.

Our Junior Assembly was a smash hit.

Many parallels can be drawn between the progress of our class through Senior High School and the wanderings of a river on its way to the sea. Our spirit and enthusiasm at the beginning of our Sophomore year were very much like the energy of a mountain stream plunging along its rocky way. Our class advisors, Mr. Romasco and Miss Haley, gave us much valuable counsel. Many times they prevented our youthful enthusiasm from "overflowing its banks." At our first class meeting we elected our leaders. Bob Barbash was chosen President, while Dave McCahan served as his able assistant. Linda Mathias was our secretary, and Anne Cope handled our financial affairs. Our first class project was the fall candy sale. We attacked our task energetically, determined to break all records. At the same time we ordered our class rings and began planning for our first dance, "Winter Wonderland." In February we sponsored a bus trip to see "Ben-Hur." We rounded out our Sophomore year with an enjoyable party at Bill Storkey's home.

We celebrated the departure of '62 for Washington.

When we returned to school in the fall of '61, we found we had changed. As the stream grows broader and deeper, we had become wiser. This new maturity and the help of our advisors, Mr. Keenan and Mr. Byers, were invaluable during our months as Juniors. Our class officers were: Dave McCahan, President; Paul Whary, Vice-President; Linda Mathias, Secretary; and Anne Cope, Treasurer. Our first big activity was our class dance, "Skaters' Fantasy," which was presented on Janaury 20. The simple, tasteful decorations successfully captured the theme. Later in the year we sponsored another bus trip, this time to the movie "El Cid." As winter snow gave way to daffodils, we found ourselves caught up in a whirl of activity. First there was Easter candy to sell, and sell we did. Then came our Junior Prom, "Garden of Destiny." The careful planning of the decorations committee created a lovely setting for a pleasant evening. The Junior Assembly was the next item on our busy schedule. It was a rollicking success. Satisfied with our busy year, we celebrated the coming of summer with a class party at the County Park.

Suddenly we were Seniors. The great ocean of adult life was almost in sight. Our journey, which had seemed so long at its beginnings, was coming to a close with astonishing rapidity. Our Senior class officers were: Dave McCahan, President;

"It's elementary, Miss Reed!"

Bob Barbash, Vice-President; Linda Mathias, Secretary; and Sue Sprawls, Treasurer. Mr. Carfagno and Mr. Graber served as our class advisors. Immediately we found ourselves in the midst of a hectic activity schedule. In early fall we began our Christmas card sale. We also started work on our Senior dance, "Hey! Ride!" The decorations were in keeping with the autumn landscape and contributed much to the success of the dance. Christmas vacation was coming, but there was no rest for the busy Seniors. We had cards to deliver and Christmas candy to sell. After Christmas there was still no pause in our busy schedule. We presented our Senior Play and Senior Assembly. Then came a short but exciting tour of the nation's capitol. We were so busy that June arrived before we knew it. Suddenly we found ourselves in the midst of pre-graduation activities. In a daze we studied for finals, mailed announcements, and attended practices. Baccalaureate found us serious but excited. Finally Commencement arrived. With quiet pride we walked the last few steps of our long journey to adulthood.

The Class of 1964 has enjoyed a prosperous and fruitful Junior year. It has been a busy year, and one which we will well remember.

The wise saying that "Time waits for no man" certainly applied to us as Juniors. Our year seemed to pass so quickly. Under the able guidance of our class advisors we enjoyed a profitable candy sale. Our Junior dance was also a gratifying success.

Time rolled on, and before we knew it, everyone was doing his share in preparation for the Junior-Senior Prom. This highlighted our year, and left with us a host of memories to cherish.

As the Class of '64 bids farewell to the graduating Seniors, we look eagerly ahead to the new year awaiting us.

We know the road ahead is a hard one, and we wish to give you, the Class of 1963, our best wishes for traveling this road so well.

They kept on fighting

Despite a rather discouraging season, Schwenksville had its biggest team in many years. The team was made up of many young recruits coming up from the Junior High football program. The Juniors and Seniors were out in full strength as usual.

The loss of our starting backs was relieved by the outstanding play of fullback Al Cusumano. Al, coming out after the season began, was the Bluebirds' workhorse and leading scorer.

The coming season should be a successful one, with many lettermen returning in the fall.

Mr. Resetar, Captain Ed Burke, and Mr. Kunkle.

They never gave up

Schwenksville's Junior High football team, now in its third year, had an off season this year, losing four games and tying one. However, this didn't stop the boys from showing spirit.

In the past the Junior High team has served as a training ground for Varsity players and has supplied many well-groomed Sophomores each year. Despite the poor record for this year, hopes are high for the coming season.

Knock 'em down, plow 'em under!

KNEELING: Mrs. Barr, Marie Chittick, Miss MacLennan. STANDING: Sheila O'Neil, Karen Stober, Jean Brininger, Chris Hefner, Diane Jones, Kate Waddel, Linda Huels, Patty Dice, Eleanor Hyatt, Janice Martinez, Anne Cope, Linda Mathias, Nancy Dunkle, Ellen Preston, Nancy Hader, Lois Gertzen, Marcia Jamison, Mary Lou Ziegler, Joanne Tomlinson, Jeanne Frisbie, Linda Barron, Sheron Clemmer.

They reached for victory.

The Lady Bluebirds fought hard this year. The result of their efforts was the best hockey team Schwenksville has had in several years. Under the guidance of Miss MacLennan and Mrs. Barr, the girls brought home a 2-4-1 record. Major scoring contributions were made by Mary Lou Ziegler and Ellen Preston. With many players returning in the fall, hopes are high for an even better season next year.

Co-Captain Linda Mathias and Captain Jean Brininger.

They had the spirit

The J.V. Lady Bluebirds had a rough time of it this year. Most of the girls were Freshmen with no game experience, and although they worked hard at practice and fought bravely in all their games, they couldn't quite make the grade against the other more experienced teams in the league. They did hold Bridgeport to a scoreless tie, and through the efforts of Pat Sacks evened up with Methacton at 2-2. Most of the girls will be back next year, so prospects are good for a winning season.

"Fight for it, Ellen!"

Co-Captain Nancy Leavenworth and Captain Nancy Wile.

The band played on

Our hard-working Music teachers, Mrs. Bickel and Mrs. Zollers.

Under the capable direction of Mrs. Bickel, the band is daily growing in musical knowledge and skill. It does its part in increasing school spirit by playing at pep rallies and football games. This year the band also provided special entertainment, performing at the Christmas Musicale and several other programs. A bright future lies ahead, as the band increases in size and ability and takes part in more and more school activities the year round.

HOMECOMING COURT: Diana Spatz, Nancy Leavenworth, Mr. Mikolaitis, Queen Donna Mae Krupp, Donna Reed, Sue Sprawls, Nancy Wile.

A queen was crowned

The first football game of the season was a special occasion for Schwenksville fans. This was Homecoming Day, sponsored by the Student Council. At half-time Donna Mae Krupp was crowned queen of the festivities by Mr. Mikolaitis. The radiance of the queen was enhanced by the beauty of her attendants: Nancy Leavenworth, Donna Reed, Diana Spatz, Sue Sprawls, and Nancy Wile.

A dance was held Saturday evening to honor the Homecoming Queen and her court. The evening's gaiety brought a happy end to an exciting day.

Homecoming Queen Donna Mae Krupp.

They kept our spirits high

The job of promoting school spirit fell to the Pep Club, supervised by Mr. Keenan. Its members were responsible for the many posters around the halls, boosting school morale and informing students of coming games. They also sponsored the Valentine dance, "Rhapsody in Red."

The Display Club has made brightening the school and informing the students of coming events its prime objectives. With Mrs. Shaffer's talented guidance, these girls have done an excellent job of transforming the showcases and bulletin boards into so many bright spots around the halls.

They wore letters and badges

All Varsity lettermen are invited to join Mr. Resetar's Varsity Club. Here the boys learn the finer points of various sports. Occasionally they take trips to see professional games. They are also given the chance to officiate in both Junior and Senior High intramurals.

The Safety Patrol, on the job from morning until night, has as its duty the protection of the students. Each month Mr. Budnovitch reviews with the students the rules, and the members, in turn, see that the rules are enforced.

SAFETY PATROL: FIRST ROW: M. Burke, H. Kunkle, B. Reifsneider, J. Tomlinson, S. George, S. Moyer, B. Day, K. Waddel, S. Greeby, V. Frey, G. Musselman, M. Heffentrager. SECOND ROW: C. Hefner, C. They trained their minds and bodies

First Aid Club, organized for the first time this year, teaches the basic steps to be taken in case of an emergency. The girls study various first-aid techniques during their weekly meetings.

Mr. Shoemaker's Math Club provides an opportunity for students to utilize the recreational side of mathematics. In addition to playing with numbers, club members also enjoy chess, a game which developes the ability to plan and reason which is a necessity in the field of mathematics.

MATH CLUB: Mr. Shoemaker, Albert Witmayer, Rosemary Smith, Nelson Shaw, Donna Sautter, Cheryl Smith, Joe Shreves, Joanne Swymelar, Bill Beattie, Harvey Smith, Stanley Trump.

The out-of-doors was their field

In Hunters' Safety Club students learn to avoid hunting accidents. They study such things as firearms safety, sporting arms, conservation, forestry, archery, and identification of the game birds and animals.

Sportsmen's Club also deals with the out-of-doors, studying conservation, game birds and animals, trapping, hunting, fishing, and forestry. In the spring the members build bird feeders, set traps, and learn archery.

They dribbled down the floor . . .

The Bluebirds had their troubles this year. They missed a big man to get them rebounds, lost one of their starting five by an injury, and suffered the disappointment of being defeated by four or five points in several games. There are several underclassmen on the team, so prospects for the future look good. For the second year, Danny Thomas led the scoring for the Varsity.

Although the Junior High team had a rough time of it this year, the boys showed great potential and desire. This year's Jayvees won a few more games than their Freshman counterparts, using teamwork and hustle to overcome their main handicap, a lack of height. Since most of the boys will be returning next year, the coming season should show Schwenksville as a team to be reckoned with.

They learned new rules . . .

Girls' basketball has really come to life this year. New rules, calling for a roving player, allowing guards to take foul shots, and legalizing knocking the ball out of a player's hands, make the game far more exciting than it was in the past.

After losing their first two games, the Varsity lifted the gloom by gaining a much-wanted victory over Bridgeport. The Varsity was composed mostly of old pros who, knowing the pressures of a tough game, fought hard and did their best. They have high hopes for an even better season next year.

. . . And played a faster game

Although the J.V. basketball team fought hard, they had a rough time at the beginning of the season, with several close losses. Before the season ended, however, they were determinedly working toward victory. Many of the girls are underclassmen, so prospects are good for next year.

King and Queen of Hearts, Paul Whary and Linda Mathias, and their Crownbearers, Pat Reynolds and Diane Carfagno.

Our athletes reigned

"Rhapsody in Red," this year's Valentine dance, was presented by the Pep Club on February 9, 1963. The gymnasium was beautifully decorated in the traditional colors, red, white, and pink. The King of Hearts, Paul Whary, and his Queen, Linda Mathias, crossed a moonlit pond to ascend to their thrones, where they were crowned by Mr. Mikolaitis. Diane Carfagno and Pat Reynolds served as Crown-bearers in the ceremony. The dance was enjoyed by all those who attended.

King Paul and Queen Linda dance the coronation dance.

A pair of talent assemblies was presented and enjoyed by all. During the year the Council has monitored the halls, policed the student parking lot, and maintained a school store for the benefit of the students. In addition to these activities, the Student Council, representing the student body, attempts to better the relaionship between the faculty and the students at all times.

They held high standards

Dedicated to promoting the ideals of Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service, the Schwenksville Chapter of the National Honor Society completed its first full year of activity. Although the society is small, it performed a valuable service to the school by selling refreshments at athletic events, for the benefit of the Athletic Association. National Honor Society members also set up a tutoring service for students in need of help. Additional projects are planned for next year.

Officers: Rita Golden, Secretary; Charlie Yerger, President; Tom Millington, Vice-President; Anne Cope, Treasurer.

They brought us the sound of music

This year, for the first time, a Mixed Chorus was organized, with great success. These Senior High boys and girls performed on several occasions, including the Christmas Musicale and the evaluation assembly, "Unto Us, the Living."

The girls' Glee Club was continued, but this year it included only Junior High girls. They also took part in the Christmas Musicale and the Easter Assembly.

They developed their interests

In Officials Club the boys and girls learn the rules of the various sports played during the year. With this knowledge they are able to officiate for all Junior and Senior High Intramurals.

The purpose of the Dramatics Club, sponsored by Mrs. Leavenworth, is to develop an interest in the theater and in acting techniques, as well as stage management and play production. The club put on the play, The Flapper Girls, a comedy, for the high school, and also took part in the evaluation assembly, Unto Us, the Living.

The Sports Club's purpose is to build and develop body discipline. Mr. Budnovitch tests the physical fitness of his boys by marching exercises and various stunts. Our S.H.S. boys are bound to be in top physical condition under this program.

The Athletics Club, under the direction of Mr. Mikolaitis, attempts to retain good physical condition among our Junior High boys, by activities in various sports including football, basketball, and baseball. Good sportsmanship is stressed at all times in order to produce well-rounded athletes.

Mrs. Shaffer gives the Arts and Crafts Club a chance to work in three dimensions. This year they dealt in a variety of fields, including ceramics, felt, burlap, loom weaving, and basketry. Thus interested Junior High students may try out mediums of expression which are not available in regular art classes.

We tried our hands at acting.

First love is an important event in every girl's life, Our class play, "Seventeenth Summer," showed how this universal phenomenon affected seventeen-year-old Angie Morrow. Until she met Jack Duluth, Angie had never dated boys. Then, suddenly she was attracting and keeping the attentions of the local high school's football star. Although Jack seemed to grow increasingly fond of her, Angie was secretly apprehensive — and with good cause. Jane, Jack's old girlfriend, was plotting against Angie. The results of Jane's schemes produce the conflict in the play.

An able cast presented "Seventeenth Summer" on the 5th and 6th of April. Mrs. Phillippi's expert direction was largely responsible for the success of the play.

They kept a record

Jean Brininger, Layout Editor, Nancy Dunkle, Literary Editor, Anne Cope, Editor.

Yearbook Club, sponsored by Mr. Graber, and completely staffed by Seniors, has the sole responsibility for presenting the student body with a memorandum of the events of the 1962-63 school year.

The theme, the Perkiomen, was well portrayed by the excellent photographs and layouts. Much time and effort were spent on write-ups, photography, and layouts, to make the 1963 Lanconian the best ever.

They kept us informed

During two years of purposeful activity, the Publications Club has attempted to bring to the school a paper based on the philosophy that controversial issues can be met by the "thinking" students. This innovation has met with only moderate success, but it is the sincere hope of the present staff that the student body will eventually realize that their opinions, when expressed freely, can overcome many difficulties. Mr. Romasco ably directs the literary aspect of Dateline S.H.S., while the production staff is skillfully guided by Mrs. Souchock.

They ran the bases

Once again last year Schwenksville's Bluebirds has a fairly successful season, winning more than half of their games.

This year, with such returning lettermen as Paul Whary, Danny Thomas, Ron Clossin, and Bill Oliver, Coach Budnovitch expects the team to prosper. There are many other players returning to add their experience and know-how to the enthusiasm of the new team members. The baseball team should be the shining light of the '62-'63 sports season at S.H.S.

They put us on film

Under the direction of Mr. Steitz, the Photography Clubs provide pictures for the yearbook and the local newspaper, and also prepare a display for open house of all school activities. Other duties include photographing sports events, class dances, May Day, and the Senior play. Members of the clubs become acquainted with the school cameras and the process of developing film and printing pictures. The future photographers are also given pointers on the best way of taking pictures. As a fruit of their labors, they take a trip to a local photography studio or someplace where they may try their skills. Along with the Senior High Club, there is a Junior High Club to prepare Junior High students for their future responsibilities.

Their interests have broadened

In Hostess Club, Senior High girls were given the chance to learn the art of gracious living, under the guidance of Miss Stanko. They served as ushers at special school events such as the Christmas Musicale.

Through the year the Nature Club, under the supervision of Mr. Detwiler, made a general study of current articles and news events on nature. In the Spring they went on bird walks and identified spring flowers.

They investigated their world

Mr. Stein is in charge of the new Science Projects Club. His budding young scientists spend their time working on various individual projects, both for themselves and for the Science Fair. They also perform many interesting experiments.

The Junior Science Club offers an opportunity for Junior High students to investigate scientific principles through the use of projects and experiments. In an effort to develope a scientific attitude and an interest and appreciation for science, each student makes one individual project as well as helping with group experiments.

In the track and field competition that followed, the Sophomores, scoring 97 points, defeated the Juniors and Seniors, while the Freshmen were victorious in the Junior High with 116 points.

President Dave crowned Alice Butterworth Queen of the Prom.

We honored the Seniors

The most memorable event of our Junior year was the Junior-Senior Prom. Our prom, presented on May 12, 1962, was entitled "Garden of Destiny." After many hours of preparation the big evening finally arrived. The walls of the gym were covered with midnight blue, and the ceiling was hung with black crepe paper. White lawn furniture, set at random among dogwood trees, decorated the floor.

Our guests danced to the music of the Ivy Leaguers, a twelve-piece band under the direction of Ray Kirlin. All were silent as Dave McCahan crowned Alice Butterworth Queen of the Prom. Her Highness reigned until midnight, when the ball ended.

"Good luck, Godspeed, So Long, The Class of '62"

And now, good-bye!

Now, at last, we say good-bye to Schwenksville High School. The six years we have spent here, the good times and the bad, will soon be just a memory. We shall be glad to go, to try something new, to take our places in the adult world, but we shall be sorry, too. We shall look back on these days as some of the most carefree in our lives, even though we have often complained.

As a river embarks on a new adventure when it reaches the ocean, so we are beginning something new, as we bid farewell to S.H.S.
